Fears Expressed For Safety Of Commander Of U. S. Airmen; No Trace Of Major Martin

Nitro Was Battery Juice

A charge of nitroglycerine, craftily connected into the ignition system of this automobile, sent eight persons to hospitals in Cleveland. Two of them, William O'Brien, vice president of the International Sheet Metal Workers' Union, and Joseph Nester, business agent for the Cleveland local, are expected to die. The explosion occurred in front of the Cleveland Labor Temple as O'Brien and his party were leaving a union meeting. Labor warfare is blamed by police.

Gangsters Blamed For Blast In Auto Injuring Five Persons

CLEVELAND, O., May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The explosion which wrecked an automobile and possibly fatally injured William M. O'Brien, labor leader, and Joseph Nester, his aide in forming a newly organized building trades council here, and less seriously injured three other union officials, occupants of the car, was caused by dynamite, police declared today following the finding of a miniature dynamite bomb by a patrolman near where the explosion occurred late Wednesday night. The bomb was taken to the Cleveland Police station for analysis. The theory that nitroglycerine and dynamite bombs both were "planted" in the head of the car.

John G. Owens, secretary of the Cleveland federation of labor, is considering the advisability of offering a reward for the apprehension of those responsible for the explosion which caused injury to three persons besides the five occupants of the car. Friends of Mr. O'Brien, international vice president of the Sheet Metal Workers' Union, cling to the belief that the explosive was planted by thugs brought from Chicago or New York by opponents of O'Brien in a factional labor feud.

O'Brien, although almost blown apart, may live, hospital physicians say. He lost the right of an eye and had a leg amputated. Nester is slowly sinking, physicians say. Both his eyes are gone and his skull is thought to be fractured.

James Wadsworth To Be Named Chairman

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.—(By the United Press)—Senator James Wadsworth, of New York, will probably be named permanent chairman of the Republican National Convention this year, according to indications at the White House today. Wadsworth called at the White House today and had a conference with Secretary Sloop. While no statement was authorized, it was strongly indicated that Wadsworth had been picked. Congressman Thon, Burton, of Ohio, has been named temporary chairman.

Lloyd George Sees Prestige Slipping Into Hands of Labor Premier; Hurls Attack In Effort to Regain Power

BY FRANK H. SIMONDS
WASHINGTON, May 2.—More than passing importance attaches to the recent violent and even sensational attacks of Lloyd George upon Ramsay MacDonald and the Labor Ministry. These attacks signify, beyond all else that the former Prime Minister "views with alarm" the growing strength of the Labor Premier within the British Islands and the increasing possibility that by skillful handling, such as he has already displayed, MacDonald may be able to bring about some accommodation of Anglo-French differences and some stable agreement which will end European chaos.

Senate Tries To Speed Up Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Entering the second week of consideration of the tax reduction bill, the senate tried again today to speed up the discussion with spokesmen of both parties urging prompt action.

Democrats at a conference last night went on record favoring a speed-up program while Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, in charge of the bill for the majority, late yesterday threatened night sessions to expedite disposal of the measure.

As a result of two conferences the Democrats were prepared today to make a practically united stand for the Simmons income tax schedule and changes in the corporation and estate taxes.

For the third day, debate opened on the treasury proposal to limit tax deductions on the basis of amounts of income received by tax payers from tax exempt securities.

ABOARD THE HARDY, COAST GUARD CUTTER, SEARCHING FOR MAJOR MARTIN, May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Search for Major Frederick L. Martin, missing American world night commander, has been divided into four parts and early today was proceeding systematically.

CORVOVA, ALASKA, May 2.—(By the United Press)—Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the American round-the-world flight, was still missing today, forty-two hours having elapsed since he hopped off from Chignik for Dutch Harbor, Unalaska, in a seaplane. First belief that he was safe and would be found in one of the myriad of bays, inlets or coves, which make the shore of Alaskan peninsula a veritable labyrinth, was gradually fading.

BREMERTON, WASH., May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Search for Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the United States Army Around-the-World Flight, and his mechanic, Sergeant Alva Harper, missing since their departure in the air cruiser Seaside from Chignik, Alaska, Wednesday morning, was resumed with fresh vigor at dawn today by coast guard cutters, and all available canny vessels between Chignik and Dutch Harbor, Unalaska.

With the coast guard cutters, Haida and Algonquin and the coast survey vessel Pioneer, crept through the darkness last night with lights trained along the rugged North Pacific shore line.

Renewed hope for Martin's rescue has come with cessation of furious gales which have been lashing the Alaska peninsula shore and the Aleutian Islands for a week.

Owing to poor radio with northern points during daylight hours it was thought here that any word concerning what befell the plane would be delayed many hours.

A wireless from Cordova received here at midnight the last communication said no trace of the missing airmen had been found up to 3:30 p. m., Alaska time. Numerous minute islands, many of them not even charted on the largest of marine maps dot the territory where the search is in progress. So far, as is known here, the Seaside did not carry more than a day's supplies. Unless Martin and Harper are in a sheltered and inhabited place, it was pointed out the two may be suffering from exposure and hunger.

The three pilots at Dutch Harbor have become concerned over whether their adventure will succeed. Captain G. E. Rolstad, master of the Steamship Brooklyn, declared upon arrival at Seattle yesterday from Dutch Harbor.

"The people have no idea of the courage the fliers have shown in their battles with the elements in the north," Captain Rolstad said. "They do not deny that they are fearful that it (Continued on Page Twenty-Two)

Receives Reprieve On Way To Gallows

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—With death on the gallows only about forty minutes away, John Lee, negro convict of the Missouri penitentiary, who was to have been hanged today in the Cole county jail yard, at nine o'clock, was saved from the hangman's noose by a commutation granted by Governor Hyde. His death sentence was changed by the governor to life imprisonment.

Everything was in readiness for the execution. Lee was to have been hanged for the murder of Preston Young, negro cell mate in October, 1922. A crowd had gathered around the jail yard when, as in stage drama, word came from the governor that the sentence had been commuted.

He was sentenced to hang for stabbing Preston Young, a cell mate, to death. Today was Lee's birthday anniversary. When news was conveyed to him that he had been reprieved, he smiled and then shouted: "I always said May 2, was my lucky day."

President Joins Hoover in Plea for Conserving Alaskan Fisheries

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—President Coolidge has joined Secretary Hoover, in urging prompt enactment of the Alaskan fisheries conservation measure which is pending in the senate.

Declaring "these fisheries are in an extremely precarious condition," the president in a letter to Chairman Jones of the senate commerce committee, which favorably reported the measure some time ago, said "the salmon are being rapidly depleted in many sections and are in grave danger of extinction."

The situation, he added, "cannot be met under existing law" and emergency executive regulations in effect are "wholly inadequate to meet the permanent necessity."

Mr. Coolidge endorsed the pending bill as providing "ample powers" to preserve permanent tenants.

Branch, Martinsville, Ind., was sworn in as Warren T. McCray's successor at precisely the same hour McCray was sentenced to ten years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga. Ewbank, of the Indiana State Supreme Court (left) is shown administering the oath of office. Directly behind the chief justice and the new governor, are Branch's wife and son, James Elliott Branch.

Methodists Endorse America Joining World Court

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The Methodist Episcopal general conference voted today in favor of the United States joining the world court for the settlement of international disputes. The resolution was presented by Henry Wade Rogers, of New York, judge of the United States Circuit Court and which has been endorsed by President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes, that the government of the United States should join with other nations of the world in the maintenance of and participation in the permanent court of international justice. We favor the determination of international controversies not by force of arms but by the impartial investigation of facts and the application of them to the rules of international law by a world court.

"Resolved, that we protest against the delay by the foreign relations committee of the senate which has had this proposal before it without action for over a year and we respectfully ask for immediate and favorable action by that committee and by the senate of the United States."

President Coolidge Expects An Early Adjournment of Congress; Big Business Tired of Delays

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1924)
WASHINGTON, May 2.—The White House expects an early adjournment of Congress.

The legislative program in the House of Representatives has been virtually completed and were it not for the unfinished business in the Senate, Congress could adjourn in a week. But the delay in the Senate will mean at least thirty days more work. Assuming that no filibusters are attempted, Congress may be able to adjourn in time for the national conventions so that the members may devote their whole time and attention to the Presidential campaigns and the Congressional contests.

The Democrats will not block the Republican plans for an early adjournment. They are in no mood to stimulate the Republicans to work any harder than they care to work. (Continued on Page Three)

To Quiz "Other Woman" In Case

Mildred Beam

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—District Attorney Roland, who is conducting the investigation into the case of Clarence O. Baring, charged with poisoning his wife, expects to hear the story of Miss Mildred Beam today. Mr. Roland conferred yesterday with the young woman's counsel and the subpoena issued for her was withdrawn on the understanding that she would appear to answer questions as to whether she is "the other woman" mentioned by Baring.

It was disclosed late yesterday that Baring had planned to sail for Europe January 7, with a "Mrs. C. O. Baring." His wife denied that she contemplated going abroad, but said her husband had caused her suspicions by questions he had asked her concerning passports and the places they had visited when they were in Europe together.

Coolidge Seeks Running Start; Selects Butler G. O. P. Chairman

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Republican leaders in Washington saw today in President Coolidge's designation of William M. Butler, of Boston, as his choice for the Republican national chairmanship an opportunity to give a running start to the party's presidential campaign.

Close political advisers of the president said this was the motive which actuated him in making the announcement last night that Mr. Butler was his choice for the chairmanship in view of the indicated desire of John T. Adams, of Iowa, the present, chairman to retire.

Mr. Coolidge has indicated to many of those who have discussed politics with him in the last week that he regards his nomination as assured and accordingly sees no reason why there should be any delay in getting the campaign ready for its prompt inauguration immediately after the convention. Mr. Butler likewise regards Mr. Coolidge's nomination as assured and although he is indicated in the primaries yet to be held in several states, including California, he feels his pre-convention work is practically at an end. It is Mr. Coolidge's expectation that Mr. Butler with whom he had an engagement today, will undertake immediately the preparation for the presidential campaign.

The selection of Mr. Butler as national chairman will not actually be made until after the Cleveland convention. The new chairman is elected by the new national committee. The new (Continued on Page Three)

Probe Shows No Human Bones Collected by Junk Dealers

PARIS, May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Reports that human bones have been collected by the wholesale in the Mont d'Alme and Verdun battlefields districts with a view of being ground up for industrial use have moved public opinion to such a degree that an official investigation has been completed by the sub-prefect of Verdun.

He submitted two reports to the prefect of the Meuse department and later issued a decree that no search for bones, human or animal, might be made on the battlefields, except by officials of the graves services.

Junk dealers have made collections of bones in addition to other things in these districts so the sub-prefect sent doctors and police officials to take specimens from the collections for examination.

Speaker Tells What Eagles Are Doing

"Eagles, What They Have Done, and What They Are Going to Do," was the subject of an interesting address given by Judge Thomas O'Donnell of Kansas City, Mo., before a big audience in Eagle hall last night, and the meeting was one of the best in the history of local Eagledom. Judge O'Donnell is a fluent speaker and he was cheered when he concluded his splendid message.

Worthy President Oscar Frank opened the meeting, and introduced Otto Lautner, who presided as chairman. Short talks were then given by St. Bernard, Walter Miller and Theodore Brandham.

Judge O'Donnell was then introduced. After his address Mayor Ralph Calvert was introduced, and spoke briefly, congratulating the visitor on his speech. Another visiting Eagle, Elmer Stedlman of Cleveland, also spoke briefly on lodge matters, followed by F. B. Winters, local river observer, who congratulated both speakers.

Following the meeting, all present adjourned to the club rooms, where a buffet luncheon was served. In his address, Judge O'Donnell said in part:

"What is the age and this is the land of fraternalism. There is scarcely a line of human activity in which mutual association and co-operation is not found helpful. It may take the form of good-fellowship and social enjoyment, or organization for mutual assistance in the sterner business of life. It is not confined to sex or age. Men and women, together or separately, children and adults, college students, professional bodies, and manual laborers, from the Boy Scouts and Camp-fire Girls to the Miners Unions, Associated Veterans, Farmers Grangers, and University Clubs, all have found it desirable to unite in some form of exclusive society. Taking into account the various churches with their distinctive religious denominations it would seem that half the people of the United States and Canada are members of some sort of what may fittingly be termed a fraternal organization.

"Indeed, a careful estimate of the membership of what are popularly known as 'fraternities,' places the number at not less than fifteen millions.

"Of these fraternities, proper, one of the youngest, yet strongest, most rigorous, progressive and efficient is the Eagle, which claims our attention on this occasion.

Organized in 1888
"The Fraternal Order of Eagles started in February, 1888, as a society for mutual aid and friendship among a dozen persons of congenial tastes and occupations in Seattle, Washington. It has, within twenty-five years, grown into an organization of more than 500,000 members in the United States and Canada.

"The two great features of the fraternity are the 'beneficial' and the 'recreational.'

"The beneficial features involved not only individual benefit to the member and his family—but a broadening out to the community, the state, and the nation. The fraternity benefits include the service of the Aerie physician; the sick benefit which continues wages during incapacity from injury or disease; and the funeral benefit, which aids the dependents in case of the death of a member.

Eagles Support Legislation

"As citizens, the Eagles have been prominent in supporting beneficial legislation. Individually and by formal action of the 1700 subordinate Aeries, they aid in enacting the laws which provide Pensions for Widowed Mothers; Workmen's Compensation for loss from accidents and occupational diseases; a saving wage; the eight hour day; the regulation of child labor; and the minimum and maximum hours in the employment of women.

"A memorable action of the Grand Aerie was the establishment of the Patriotic Fund, out of which has been paid $1000 to the dependents of each member of the Order who in connection with the recent war lost his life in the military or naval service of the United States or Canada.

"Further exercise of its authority and in harmony with the patriotic, home-loving spirit of the Order, the Grand Aerie has established and provided a proper ritual for the observance of three annual commemorations open to the public—Armistice Day, on the 11th of November in the recognition of the cessation of the great war; Memorial Day on the second Sunday in March in honor of the members deceased during the war; and Mothers' Day on the second Sunday in May, personally sacred to every one.

"The crowning achievement of this order in its role as social benefactor, however, bids fair to be the early adoption in the states where Eagle membership is strong of laws establishing state paid pensions for those who have toiled their due yet find themselves at sixty-five or seventy without a competence for their old age.

As a result of a painstaking investigation the commission was confirmed in the conclusion previously reached by the several series that the old age pension is the most effective, and, on the whole, the least expensive, method of caring for the disabled, infirm. Accordingly, by the preparation and distribution of literature and through clubs and public addresses, it has sought to create a public sentiment that would secure the enactment of laws providing old age pensions. It also reported its conclusion to the Grand Aerie of 1922, which approved its course, continued its existence and made further appropriation for carrying on its work.

Dempsey Guaranteed Half Million In Fight With Wills, Sept. 6

NEW YORK, May 2.—Louis Firpo, "Wild Bull from the Pampas" moved out of Tex Rickard's heavyweight menagerie yesterday, and Harry Wills, the "Black Panther of New Orleans," stepped in. Rickard announced that Jack Dempsey would box Wills at Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City on the afternoon of September 6, in accordance with an agreement the champion had signed to fight one bout this year in defense of his title, under Rickard's promotion.

At Los Angeles, Jack Keams stated that the match was news to him, but that Dempsey would meet Wills. No difficulty over terms is anticipated.

In announcing the match, Rickard said that he finally had been convinced that Firpo did not want to fight again, and pugilistic relations with the Argentine have been severed.

Whether Wills has gone back during his three years of practically inactivity will be tested in two eliminations. The first is scheduled for May 12 when he meets Bartley Madden in 15 rounds. In the other he will meet either Quintin Romero, the most recent South American importation, or Brimmo Spalla, Italian heavyweight, who stayed 11 rounds with Firpo in South America. Wills must win both fights to retain the bout with Dempsey.

Romero is matched with Floyd Johnson on May 9. His chance to meet Wills will depend upon the result of this fight.

With Wills-Dempsey match, Rickard believes, would attract more than $1,000,000. Wills is understood to be guaranteed about $200,000. Dempsey's figure would approach a half million.

Pyorrhea

Money Back If Jo-Vex Fails—Sold by Fisher & Streich, Wurster Bros., and Good Druggists Everywhere

Fifty out of every 100 adult persons who read this paper have pyorrhea and are disgusted with it.

We read a great deal about how to prevent pyorrhea, but what good does prevention do for the people who already have it?

Don't say "I can't get rid of it." Hundreds of people have done it with Jo-Vex and two minutes time a day. It hasn't failed yet.

Get a six-ounce bottle from Fisher & Streich, Wurster Bros., and follow directions.

Gums begin to harden and stop bleeding; loose teeth begin to tighten; pus pockets are freed from infection, and the entire mouth shows healthy improvement. Keep it up for a few weeks until every trace of this foul-smelling disease is gone.—Advertisement.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the only medicine for catarrh, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by getting to the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. Be and ask—Advertisement.

with them at Red Grange.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
He turned slowly away, drawing the door to behind him before he went down the wide staircase to his own study.

The car had already gone to Selment, the nearest station. If the train was punctual she ought to be here in a few moments.

Even as he glanced at his watch he heard the motor-horn as the car turned in at the drive. He stopped, irresolute.

A servant crossed the hall to open the door. Miss Varney came hurrying down the stairs.

"That must be she, David. Oh dear, I do feel so nervous."

David looked a little nervous himself. He passed a hand rather hastily across the back of the head, and glanced at himself in a long mirror that hung on one wall; but he went forward composedly enough when the car drew up at the step, and a servant opened the door.

"A little dying ray of sunshine struggled through the gray sky as Mary Furnival stepped from the car, shining warmly upon her sweet face and black-robed figure.

"Sunshine to greet her! A good omen," thought Miss Varney, as she unceremoniously brushed David aside and went forward, with outstretched hands.

"My dear child, I am so glad to see you! Welcome home—to Nigel's home!"

The girl's eyes went past the little lady's kindly face to where David stood, and a sort of fear momentarily filled her eyes. But it was gone immediately, and she returned Miss Varney's impulsive kiss with warmth.

"I am so glad to come, and I think it is sweet of you to want me," she shook hands with David composedly enough, but she did not raise her eyes to his. Her lips were a little tremulous. Now the first flush of excitement had died away she looked pale and ill.

"You will be all ready when you have taken off your hat, David, I told them to put tea in your study. It's so much more cozy there. You don't mind, do you?"

She did not wait for an answer. The two women went away up the wide staircase together.

David Bretherton stood looking after them with a little frown. She was glad to come, he was sure of that; the tone of her voice and the tremulous agitation of her face told him more than an effusion of words could have done. But he remembered how she had avoided meeting his eyes.

He went into the study, where tea was laid by the fire, and stood looking across the room with thoughtful eyes.

CHAPTER XXII.

The Beginning of Difficulties.

He made himself very agreeable during tea-time. Even Miss Varney was a little surprised at the attention he paid to the girl. As a rule he cared little for women, and avoided their company whenever possible.

He told Mary that he was looking forward to showing her the surrounding country. He said that there were many things about the house that would interest her—"That is, if you care for old things," he added.

"I do, very much," she told him. "For the first time her eyes met his. Something in their expression held hers. A little color crept up over his chin. It was David who looked away first.

"We have some very fine pictures," he said, rather constrainedly. "We are very proud of them, aren't we, Aunt Florence?" He turned again to Mary.

"I wonder if you will let me have your portrait added to the gallery? Nigel's portrait added would like his wife's to hang beside his."

Mary had not lifted her cup. It fell from her nerveless grasp to the rug at her feet. She sat looking down at it with a sort of frozen horror on her white face.

Miss Varney rushed to the rescue. "It doesn't matter—it doesn't matter in the least," she declared kindly, regardless of the fact that the broken cup was old Sevres, and almost priceless.

"She rang the bell for the maid. She poured Mary a fresh cup of tea. She laughed and chatted, and did her best to cover the girl's painful confusion.

Mary began a stammered apology. "I am so very sorry. I don't know how it happened. I am not clumsy as a rule."

There were tears in her eyes and in her voice.

"Please don't upset yourself," said David kindly. "There was a sort of remorse in his face as he saw the distress in hers. 'I dare say you are tired,' he looked down at the broken fragments of delicate china. 'I never cared for the set, anyhow,' he said carelessly.

Miss Varney looked up in amazement. "Why—" she began, remembering how many times David had said how much he valued the tea-service, but stopped, meeting his eyes. "No, you never did really like it, did you?" she said hurriedly.

They spoke on other subjects, but it was obvious that Mary was upset at what had occurred; as soon as possible Miss Varney took her away. "To unpack and rest," she said. "You must be tired after the long journey. We don't have dinner till half-past seven, so you will have plenty of time."

When she came back to the study, she found David still standing where she had left him; there was a little pucker of perplexity between Miss Varney's kind eyes as she closed the door and went up to him.

"She isn't a bit as I pictured her, David. If you remember, Monty Fisher described her as very pretty, and rather—common, didn't he? Well, I don't call her pretty, do you? And she's a lady to her finger tips."

David shrugged his shoulders. "Oh, I think she is pretty," he said nonchalantly. "Or she would be if she didn't look so sad; and she's most certainly a lady."

"She adored poor Nigel; upstairs just now, she put her arms around my neck and began to cry like a child when I spoke about him."

"I shouldn't speak of him too much if I were you; it doesn't give her a chance to get over it. The thing is to try and take her thoughts off the subject, don't you think? Of course, I don't mean that I want her to forget him—but—you understand?"

IT FELL FROM HER NERVELESS GRASP TO THE RUG.

"I suppose it is the best thing to do, poor child! David, didn't you tell me her name was Dolly?"

"I—or—I really forget; why?" "I asked her what she would like me to call her, and she said 'Mary'—but I am sure you said that her name was Dolly."

"Nigel wrote about her as Dolly; perhaps it was a sort of nickname." David had half turned away, and was looking into the fire.

"I shall call her Mary, anyway," Miss Varney asserted. "The other doesn't seem to suit her at all. Dolly is a babyish-looking girl, not anyone in the least like Mary. David, I'm going to love that girl."

David looked round smiling.

"Are you?"

"I am sure I shall. There's something about her—" she broke off. "I suppose you'll be calling me an impressionable old woman?"

David put out his hand and took hers.

"I think you're the best woman in the world," he said, and, stopping, gave her a hearty kiss.

Miss Varney smiled, well pleased. She adored her tall nephew; it was her greatest happiness to hear him say that he did not know what he should do without her.

She walked to the door and came back.

"David," she said in a half whisper, "you're not to dress for dinner tonight; I don't think Mary has any evening frocks."

"I don't suppose she has; they must have led a very quiet life by the look of the flat. Did she like her room?" she said, and was fairly—she had never seen it before. When she came with Nigel, they only went round the grounds, and through the adventure rooms. You must show her all over the house tomorrow."

"If she cares to?"

"If she cares to? Why, she's as proud of being a Bretherton as you are. She thinks there's a great deal in it. Is you really mean to?"

have her portrait added to the gallery, dear?"

"If she will allow me to; all the Brethertons and their wives are there."

"She is a widow, poor child," said Miss Varney, sighing.

"David made no comment, and she went softly away, closing the door.

By dinner time Mary seemed to have recovered something of her cheerfulness; there was a little white added to the sombre black of her frock, and she was not so pale.

As David sat at the head of the table, the light from the shaded lamp falling on his face, she could see again that odd, uncertain likeness to his dead brother that had so upset her that night at the flat; it made her feel fainthearted; it almost seemed as if Nigel were a living presence in the room, watching her, perfectly conscious of what she was doing.

She woke from her dreaming with a little start.

David was speaking to her; his eyes met hers with that half deprecating, half sympathetic expression which she could not quite fathom.

"Did you know we had a ghost here? Did Nigel tell you?"

Mary shook her head; a faint gleam of interest crossed her face. (Continued in Our Next Issue.)

"WELL, STRONG-- JUST DID FINE"

What A Missouri Lady Who Suffered From Weakness and Nervousness Says About Taking Cardui

Matthews, Mo.—"Before the birth of my little girl," Mrs. Lena Stancil, of this place, recently stated, "I was so weak in my back and sides I couldn't go about. I was too weak to stand up or do any work."

"I felt like my back was coming in two. I lost weight. I didn't eat anything much and was so restless I couldn't sleep nights."

"My mother used to take Cardui, so I sent to get it. I was improving after my first bottle. Cardui is certainly a great help for nervousness and weak back. I took six bottles of Cardui and by then I was well and strong, just did fine from then on. Cardui helped me so much."

Many thousands of women have been saved from needless suffering and ill health because they have learned the value of Cardui, either from their mothers, as in the case of Mrs. Stancil, or from experienced women friends and relatives.

Other women, who have had no one to advise them, can find out for themselves what a great help it can be to them in building up and strengthening run-down systems, by simply giving Cardui a fair trial.

Who Is The Business Man?

Who if offered 5,000 handbills each 10 inches long and about 4 1-2 inches wide, with the opportunity to put on each bill vital facts about the merchandise he has to sell, would not consider it a bargain if he could get them for say $5. And if he were given the opportunity to pay say $5 more and have all these bills distributed in five thousand homes, would he not feel he was fortunate?

The Morning Sun is distributed each morning to nearly five thousand homes and less than a hundred of these are outside the Portsmouth community trading area. A space such as is designated above may be purchased in an issue of the Sun for as low as $3.60 and each advertisement will go into these almost 5,000 homes where the Sun is now a regular and welcome visitor.

Bonus Bill Before House for Adoption

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The soldier bonus bill was before the house today for final approval with some minor changes made by the senate and agreed to by house conferees to be ratified. All must without discussion yesterday, the senate ratified the report of its conferees and, with similar action by the house and the completion of some administrative details the measure will be ready for dispatch to the White House, probably tomorrow or Monday.

No Cars Move; Strikers Parley

ALLIANCE, O., May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—Possible break in the strike of Stark Electric Trainersmen is seen in the meeting of striking trainmen called for this afternoon. No city or interurban lines have moved since 3:00 a. m. Thursday, when car workers struck at the expiration of the old wage scale.

It is possible that the controversy may be submitted to arbitration. The company, it is said, has an arbitrator waiting and will submit the entire proposition to arbitration if the men will name their spokesman on the board.

Seek Explanation Of Miller Telegrams

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The senate agriculture committee today sought from E. G. Liebold, Henry Ford's private secretary, an explanation of telegrams exchanged between him and James Martin Miller, who claimed to represent Ford's weekly newspaper, the Dearborn Independent in Washington.

One telegram obtained by the committee under subpoena from the Western Union Telegraph Company, quoted President Coolidge as saying he was "trying to deliver Muscle Shoals" to Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Friel, Pioneer Residents, Married 55 Years Ago Today

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Friel, 1532 Eleventh street, are today celebrating their 55th wedding anniversary. Both have reached the age of 85 years and still are very active.

Mr. Friel today recalled his early activities in the Pelee Island and how he had a part in putting down the first patented sidewalk in the city. It was laid in front of the Davis property, now the site of Portsmouth high school. That was in the year of 1869 and Mr. Friel vividly remembers two Irish workers who came here from New York and worked on the same job. According to Mr. Friel, the men who helped materially in the progress of the city were those who used the pick and shovel many years ago. In the fall of 1869 he drove a team for Philip Kelley, one of Portsmouth's leading contractors, in those days. Mr. Friel does not hesitate in saying that Mr. Kelley was one of the best men in his line of business in Portsmouth in 75 years. Mr. Friel worked on canal and Scioto river bridge and locks, helped widen Galia pike in 1867 and was one of few remaining men who worked on Scioto river bridges in Pickaway county back in '68 and '69. Mrs. Friel's maiden name was Catherine McQuee, and she was married to Mr. Friel May 2, 1869, in Portsmouth. Mr. and Mrs. Friel believe they are the oldest living Irish couple in the city and are proud of Portsmouth and its many improvements, its steady progress being a great source of satisfaction to them.

Rev. W. H. Phelps to Deliver Initial Sermon At Second Church; To Talk on Linotype Machine

Rev. W. H. Phelps will deliver his first sermon as the new pastor of the Second Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening, and large congregations are expected to be present to greet him. Rev. Phelps has chosen for his morning topic, "Two Men In One Person" and for the evening his subject will be "Two Hands In One Space." On the latter theme he will talk on the linotype machine and he promises his listeners a very interesting discourse.

A musical feature of the day will be a harp solo at the morning services by Mr. Clyde Knost, one of Portsmouth's most talented singers. He will sing "The Liberator" by Van De Water. Other interesting musical features will mark both the morning and evening programs under the able direction of Prof. Elmer Ende.

All Saints' Men To Organize

A men's organization in All Saints' church, one that will compare favorably with the women's organizations, is the aim of Rector Hans J. Hilt, who has arranged for a supper meeting for all men of the parish on May 14. The Women's Auxiliary will serve supper at this time. The first "get-together" for the men of the church since Rector Hilt took charge several months ago. One or more permanent organizations of men that will work for "Red All Saints" is expected to develop from the general gathering of men.

Discontented Husbands

At Trinity Church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, Dr. Smith will preach on the theme, "Discontented Husbands." This will be a review of the book entitled, "Babbitt," by Sinclair Lewis. A special feature at Trinity for the morning service will be the vocal solo, "Lead Thou My Soul," from Beethoven, sung by Mr. Arthur Head and accompanied in violin obligato by Miss Alice Blake.

Baseball Season In McDermott Opens Sun.

The McDermott team, under the management of First Sacker Elliott will start their activities of the season Sunday when they will hook up in a diamond struggle with the Mohawk Tires, of this city. ### Train Hits Auto IRONTON, May 2.—A sedan owned by Howard Urue, manager of the Central Ice Company, was damaged when struck by an N. & W. freight train. Mr. Urue parked his car on the driveway between Railroad and Center at the rear of the D. T. and I. freight station. He parked near the road curbing and a step of the passing freight caught a fender and damaged it and the running board. No one was in the machine.

Knutson Freed Of Accusations By Virginia Jury

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Representative Harold Knutson, Minnesota, was found not guilty by a jury today in Arlington county, Va., of serious charges filed against him last March by three Virginia police officers, who arrested him when in an automobile with Leroy M. Hull, a Washington government clerk.

Knutson, commenting upon the result, declared that it was what he had expected, and that he had been confident of the outcome right along.

Evidence during the trial, consisted for the prosecution, of testimony by police officers, patrolling the Virginia roads, of how they had found the parked automobile, while both Knutson and Hull denied specifically the charges.

Shoesley Shows at Millbrook Park Present a Colorful Panorama

A colorful panorama of light, music and motion, the big joy plaza of the Greater Shoesley Shows, which will play the remainder of the week in Millbrook park in New Boston under auspices of Dodge Angubright Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars of Portsmouth, was thrown open last night to pleased throngs who filled the pleasure zone with gaiety.

With many new wagon show- fronts, with nearly every inch of canvas fresh from the tentmakers, with gold leaf lavishly applied, with artistic and colorful embellishments in the execution of all attractions, with the gaily decorated and illuminated rides, with hundreds of brilliantly-lit electric bulbs, with continuous "hulahoos" revealing hundreds of gowned women and clever men, with all wardrobe spick and span and an entire absence of that arch-enemy of outdoor amusements—dirt, the Greater Shoesley Shows' midway is a riot of color, life, pep and enthusiasm, a monster entertainment which whirls and thrills for the delight of thousands.

The general verdict is that it is by far the largest, most modern and wholesome carnival company ever brought to this city.

Never has a finer set of riding devices been seen in this vicinity and all attractions are as clean as the equipment appears—and that is immaculate. Capt. John M. Shoesley travels with his shows in his private car "Alabama" and is in personal charge of all representatives. The shows will remain in New Boston until early Sunday morning, when they will journey to Covington, Ky., for a celebration of Old Kentucky Lodge of Moose.

Will Stage Amateur Circus

The Boys Department of the Terminus Y. M. C. A. will stage the Terminus Amateur Circus in the interest of the boys of Portsmouth on Saturday, May 17th at Poplar street grounds, Terminus, the performance starting at 2 p. m. and the street parade will take place at 10:30 a. m.

There will be lots of dough for the kiddies and the "kiddies grown tall." The principal feature of the circus work is the preparatory handicraft and manual training which the arrangement for the circus work affords. The boys have been working very perseveringly and industriously in making the animals and other equipment.

The girls are also working on the costumes and equipment and rehearsing their parts for the big events. The circus program will include the Equestrian troupe in the parade, miniature engine constructed by the boys, wild west stage coach, Isadore, the Irish elephant, Siamese Twins, Cherry Colored Cat, Clowns and Clown Band, Arkansas Giraffe, Chariot Race, January Ground Hog, High School Cadets, Siberian Ostrich, Hall of Illar-ity, Indian and Oriental Girls, Screaming Side Shows, Refreshment Hawkers, Bourne Brothers, Acrobatic troupe. Many other stunts and acts.

The proceeds are for the benefit of the Boys athletic fund to secure uniforms for basketball, baseball, football, and other equipment. The general public is requested to boost the boys. Tickets are on sale now at the Boys Department and among the Boys Committee headed by G. Ellis Stitt, chairman of the Ticket Committee, Howard Oliver, Charles Carter and Ted Labetz are supervising the construction of the animals, and James Brunner, Roy Maynard, and Norman Oliver the painting.

Lewis Stitt and Forrest Berry are helping Howard Oliver with the Publicity and Advertising matters. Edward Deatley is in charge of the side shows. Paul Brunner is the director of the clowns. Indications point to the show being a grand success.

Cupid Comes Back Strong Despite K. O.

OAK HARBOR, O., May 2.—Cupid, apparently down and out in the affairs of Miss Alice Breyman, 17, of Mansfield, and Myron Gettlinger, 19, of Oak Harbor, staged a complete comeback today when the announcement was made of the marriage of these young folks at Monroe, Mich. Plans of the couple, who had eloped on Monday from Mansfield, where Gettlinger had spent the week end, were frustrated at Toledo by Miss Breyman's brother, Elsworth Breyman. But Young Gettlinger returned to Mansfield obtained the consent of Miss Breyman's parents to the wedding, went to his parents' home here and got the parental blessing, and with Miss Breyman continued on to the Michigan Coast, where they were married.

Mrs. Lena Kline Reed to Speak in First Christian Church Sunday

Believing that the women are in the Loyal Men come across with an attendance of 500, there is no question but the school will reach its set mark of 1000. This would be the largest crowd for some time, but judging from the interest that is being manifested on all sides, it will not be hard to reach. The school was never in a more flourishing condition — there is not the semblance of a disband anywhere, and the novelty of holding the men's session in front of the church building is expected to add considerable zest to the occasion.

It should be stated that the women have been extremely busy during the week. They have promised to have a larger attendance than the men — in other words, when a male is counted, there will be a female to offset that fact.

Pepgen Continues to Amaze Portsmouth Play House Man; Relieved Almost Overnight

Pepgen, the new medical discovery now being introduced at Fisher & Streich's Pharmacy, by J. E. Young, the scientist from Dayton, Ohio, is fast becoming the sensation of this section of Ohio.

In talk with a representative of The Portsmouth Times, Mr. Phil M. Streich said: "The statements which Mr. Young and I are receiving from many well known Portsmouth people who have been relieved by Pepgen really amaze me.

"Not only every day, but almost every hour during the day some one comes into my store telling of the good which Pepgen has done for them. I trust everyone in Portsmouth will have an opportunity of talking with Mr. Young before he leaves the city.

"The case of Mr. Edward Pressler of 1223 Eleventh street, is typical of that of many others:

"Your Pepgen is sure a good medicine," said Mr. Pressler, "I was, in Fisher & Streich's about three weeks ago. I had been feeling generally run down and worn out for some time. I just didn't have any ambition to do my work. I work, you know, at the Play House. I saw a good many people getting Pepgen so I thought I would try a bottle.

"It did me more good than I ever

Legion Enjoys Big Night

It has been a long time since men then given, with Chairman Harold Chayton of the entertainment committee in charge. Much of the enjoyment of what followed resulted from films brought here for the occasion by Manager Tynes of the Columbia theater, one of which was a complete western called "The King of Wild Horses," and another reel showing Company K going to war. Fred Etzkorn operated the moving picture apparatus, assisted by an operator from the Columbia.

The orchestra rendered a complete concert after the motion pictures were shown, having concluded their evening's performance at the theater. The turnout for the evening was especially good in honor of the occasion, fathers of a number of members being on hand as guests, while several other guests were fathers of those who died in service.

The committee, composed of D. E. Gardner, Jr., H. H. Eccles and Harold Chayton, planning for acquiring a new home for the local organization, expects to be ready to report at the next meeting. A luncheon and smoker closed last night's session.

Name Lieutenants

Announcement was made at the local Army, headquarters of Battery B and Combat Train, 134th Field Artillery, yesterday that Guy Cooper and Harry Hazelbaker had been promoted to second lieutenants in Battery B in charge of Captain Theron Matthews. The appointment of these two officers gives the two local National Guard units a full staff of officers. Cooper recently enlisted in the Battery and Hazelbaker was a sergeant major in the Combat Train.

Captain Matthews is now receiving new enlistments in order to equip the two units to full strength before they go to Camp Knox, Ky., for the usual summer training. A number of enlistments expire this summer and men are needed to fill the places of those who do not re-enlist.

Pains in Back So Bad He Couldn't Straighten Up in the Morning

Well Known Southern Michigan Citizen Reports Amazing Results from "Dreco," New Herbal Tonic

Feels Fine Now, He Declares. Able To Sleep and Eat at Last. Dreco Expert Now at Stewart's Cut Rate Drug Store. See Him. Free Samples given.

No amount of boasting could convince folks of the remarkable powers of Dreco, the famous natural plant and herb remedy, one half as quickly as the plain sincere, frank testimonials of those who have tried it. Almost everyone in Southern Michigan, for instance, knows Mr. Elmer DeLand, the popular farmer and auctioneer who may be addressed at P. O. No. 1, Lambertville, Michigan. He says: "I'd be willing to stand up before 10,000 people and tell them what Dreco has done for me for this grand remedy is better than I ever even dreamed a medicine could be. "For a long time I'd been in a bad, rundown condition and nothing seemed to help me. I had an appetite like a canary bird—one slice of bread satisfied my hunger. The pains in my back were so bad I couldn't sleep at night and in the morning when I got up I couldn't straighten out. Things went on like this for some time and I became so disheartened and discouraged I didn't know what to do. "Reading of Dreco I decided to try it and it surely did the work. Why, I got around like I did years ago and to look at me you'd never think I had a puny little appetite up to several weeks ago. Yes, sir, Dreco's the medicine for me and whenever I see anybody suffering like I did I'm going to tell them how they can get relief, mighty quick. "Call today at Stewart's Cut Rate Drug Store and ask to talk with Mr. O'Connor, the expert from the Dreco Laboratories. He will courteously tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy. Also he will honestly tell you whether or not he thinks Dreco will benefit you.—Advertisement.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—A search in the records of the interior department has failed to disclose that President Harding authorized Albert B. Fall as interior secretary to lease more than 3,000 acres of land in California naval oil reserve No. 2 to the Honolulu oil company, E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of the interior, testified today before the senate oil committee. Moreover, the witness said the lease, which was to be the subject of a special investigation by the oil committee, had not been approved by Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy at the time it was executed.

"Who was it that requested him not to act?" asked Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri.

"The president," Finney replied, adding that it was his opinion that had Lane acted he would have granted the patent.

After John Barton Payne succeeded Lane, Finney continued, the question again was taken up and Payne denied the patent.

Ironton Plumbers Strike

IRONTON, O., May 2.—Approximately fifteen union plumbers went on strike here Thursday morning when the local plumbers refused to meet their demands for a twenty-five per cent wage increase. The men were receiving $1.00 per hour and demanded $1.25. The new scale drafted by them and presented to the master plumbers, on Monday, some time ago, set May 1st as the effective date. The employers refused to sign, and the men took their tools home at quitting time Wednesday evening and did not report for work Thursday morning. Eight hours constituted a day's work for the plumbers and on this basis they were paid $8.00 per day. Under the scale demanded they would receive $10.00 per day.

Dun Condemns Efforts of Labor Leaders to Abolish Labor Board

CHICAGO, May 2.—(By the United Press)—Efforts of labor leaders to abolish the Railroad Labor Board were condemned here today by Samuel O. Dunn, editor of The Railway Age, in a speech to business men.

"Labor leaders are trying to jam through congress railway labor legislation that will wholly disregard the rights and interests of the public and be wholly contrary to efficient and economical operation," Dunn said. "This would mean elimination of public representation at such conferences leaving the public unprotected and at the mercy of the workers and the railroads," he said.

Manager Adam Frick of the C. of C. issued the following statement Friday:

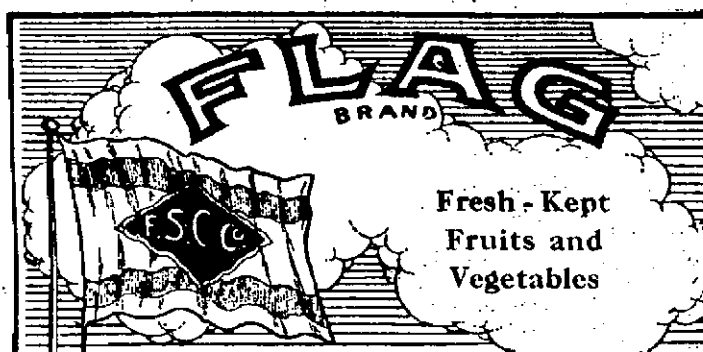

Members of the Chamber of Commerce are grateful, indeed, and indebted to the citizens, in general, for the excellent fine spirit of co-operation which made the occasion of Tuesday that of entertaining guests from the Queen City, the success that it was.

We are happy in service and to know that Cincinnatians appreciated so much the attention of Portsmouth people, is a compensation of more value than the finest of gold.

We beg the opportunity of expressing ourselves and thank the merchants, business men and those of the homes for decorating their places so very appropriate for the occasion.

To Scout Master Henderson and his splendid, though youthful army, we express a high sense of appreciation for the attention given to our guests and citizens.

To The Times and The Sun, we know of no way that we can in any manner appropriate to the occasion, express ourselves for the service you have rendered all of us that has made possible the success of the entire project and program yet in admitting this fact, we ask you to accept the very warmest appreciation of our members for every thought, act and service rendered in behalf of our guests and homefolks.

Chicago's Farewell to Wanda Stopa!

Ten thousand morbidly curious men, women and children crowded into Chicago's "Little Poland" for the funeral of Wanda Stopa. Five thousand more waited three, four, even five hours at the cemetery just to catch a glimpse of the casket. Here is a section of the crowd that jammed the street in front of the Stopa apartment while the services were in progress. In the circle a police detail is seen keeping back the lines as the casket is being lifted into the hearse. A peanut vendor did a thriving business through the crowd. Old school chums served as pallbearers and carried the floral offering that marked friends' sympathy for the girl who ended her life after she had killed Henry Manning, caretaker at the suburban home of the man she loved, Y. Kenley Smith.

Man Suffers Fractured Skull; Police Investigating

Charles Weaver of the Weaver and McNeal soft drink parlor, Ninth and Chillicothe streets, is laid up at his home 622 Eighth street with a fractured skull sustained early Friday morning. He and his friends claim that the crank of his new touring car struck him on the forehead and caused the injury.

Several conflicting stories are told of how and where the accident happened and these reports are causing the police to investigate. The Weaver car is held at the police station since it was found on a West End street this morning with considerable blood on the driver's seat.

According to Weaver's friends, he had driven down the West Side road when his engine stalled. On attempting to start the engine he discovered the battery had run down and he then tried to crank the car. The crank flew out of its socket and struck Weaver on the forehead. His friends claim Weaver is then said to have driven the machine to West End where he went into a lunch room and asked that a physician be called. He also summoned a friend and after being attended by a physician was taken to his home.

An x-ray was taken today and it shows a fracture of the frontal region of the skull just over the left eye. The injury is one that is not considered serious in most cases.

T. Mickelthwait, accuses her by way of offense petition with neglect and cruelty, alleging that she has refused to live with him and declaring that she left him in April, 1923, for the association of other men, and avers she is now and has been since July 14, 1923, living with one Thurman Seagals, at his home back of Lucasville.

The complaint was filed by the N. & W. delegates and the hearing disclosed that the offense was committed last October, since when the lad had successfully dodged the officers until yesterday when he was taken into custody.

Defendant Won Land Disputes
After hearing evidence in the injunction suit of George Motes, against Tassel Gardner in Common Pleas court yesterday, Judge Thomas made a finding in favor of the defendant, denying Motes the relief sought by dismissing the petition and dissolving the temporary restraining order previously allowed.

The action was brought to settle a dispute over a strip of ground owned by Gardner in the village of Hardin, which Motes claimed he had under lease for the storage of hoop-poles and shaved hoops. Gardner denied that the lease covered as much ground as claimed by Motes and recently freed the disputed strip of poles and hoops stored there, by tossing them off.

The court in passing on the case urged the parties to come to some amicable understanding as to the ground to be occupied for storage purposes so as to avoid further disputes. Attorney George W. Sheppard for plaintiff and Attorney E. G. Miller for Gardner.

Why Certainly Mayor, Eagle Hall Is At Second and Court

"Will you kindly tell me where the Eagle Hall is located?" Mayor Calvert asked a man standing in front of a Chittenden street drug store last night.

"Why, certainly, Mayor. The Eagle Hall is located at Second and Court streets," The Times man quickly replied.

"I've been around here a long time, but I had forgotten just where the Eagles were meeting," the Mayor said sheepishly, as he started for his destination, after being given complete details as to how to reach said hall.

"This is certainly a good joke on me, so please keep it quiet," And, of course, the reporter will not tell it to any more than about 20,000 readers.

Mrs. Doolittle will speak at the evening service in this church at seven o'clock, on Rev. David S. Tappan's work in Kiangchow, Hainan, China. She will also speak to the Sunday School at nine. All the members and friends of the First Church are requested to be present.

Winter, re-elected secretary-treasurer, made short talks at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the club held last night at the Elks.

Harry Schick, general manager of the Jackson Iron and Steel Co., Jackson, was the principal speaker of the evening, delivering an interesting address on the subject, "Iron," discussing the development of the iron industry. Mr. Schick was introduced by Raymond D. York, chairman of the program committee of the evening.

The new officers of the organization were given an ovation when introduced, and are assured of the hearty co-operation of every member of the organization. Dan W. Conroy, who has been president of the Club since its organization, declined reelection.
